

connect 2 culture®

Engaging people with dementia and their caregivers through cultural experiences.

Educator Workshop

Best Practices for Cultural Programs Engaging People with Dementia

Tuesday, March 14, 4:30-6:30pm
CaringKind, 360 Lexington Avenue, 3rd floor

We estimate there are 250,000 people living with Alzheimer's or a related dementia in New York City. With this number increasing over the next few years, cultural institutions have a unique opportunity to combat the feelings of isolation through community building programs for this audience.

This two-hour workshop will focus on best practices in engaging people with dementia and their caregivers. It will be grounded in New York's unique population, the resources for deepening current programs and beginning new ones that serve diverse older New Yorkers. The workshop will include breakout sessions to discuss your ideas and barriers for these programs.

Accommodations: Wheelchair accessible
CART service available
Assistive listening devices on request

Seating is limited and registration is required.

Please call our 24-hour Helpline at 646-744-2900
to reserve a space.

Or register online at www.EventBrite.com and search for
"connect2culture"

All meetings are free of charge and subject to change.

In partnership with:

CaringKind*
360 Lexington Avenue
New York, New York 10017
646-744-2900 24-hour Helpline
caringkindnyc.org
@caringkindnyc

f/caringkindnyc t@caringkindnyc i@caringkindnyc

Formerly known as the Alzheimer's Association, NYC Chapter*